SEND / 'ND' - an 'umbrella' term for a range of cognitive impairments affecting 14.6% of school age young people.

Overall it is estimated that 1 in 5 people are 'neurodiverse', including the conditions Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, Tourette's, Dyscalculia, ADHD and Autism.

2 in 5 are not identified until after age 16.

The Umbrella has become a positive uplifting symbol of neurodiversity.

‘Diversity is inclusion’ – neurodiverse paradigm in health, education & commerce

What's next in 2020?

Greater collaboration across agencies and sectors concerned with neurodevelopmental services

Every school embracing a neurodiverse paradigm for education?

A National Strategy for ADHD?

Continued advancement in industry in diversity and inclusion – enabling and esteeming the neurodiverse workforce.
